Mr. Jose M. Rodriguez, Esq.
Federal Election Commission
Office of the General Counsel
999 E Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20463

Re: MUR 3774

Dear Mr. Rodriguez:

I am writing in response to your letter dated April 16, 1997 in which you request additional information concerning my answers to the Federal Election Commission's Subpoena and Order. Specifically, you request information concerning: (1) any responsive documents that are being withheld based on the General Objections; (2) my efforts to comply with the Subpoena and Order; (3) the extent to which other entities or individuals may possess responsive documents; and (4) the addresses, phone numbers and employment of the various individuals listed in my interrogatory answers.

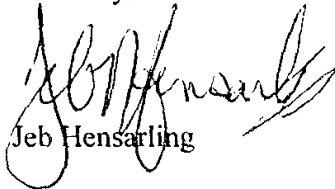

Subject to the General Objections raised in my initial response, and without waiving same, I hereby answer the additional questions as follows:

- (1) There are no responsive documents being withheld based on the General Objections.
- (2) As required by the instructions accompanying the Subpoena, I exercised due diligence to search all of my personal files for any possible responsive documents. However, given that I left the NRSC almost 4 1/2 years ago, I simply do not have any responsive documents in my possession, custody or control.
- (3) I have no knowledge of any other entity or individual in possession of any responsive documents. It is possible, although highly doubtful, that the NRSC may have some files dating back to 1993, but if so, I have no knowledge of or control over such files.
- (4) Senators Coverdell, DeWine and Kempthorne can obviously be contacted at their Senate Offices in Washington, D.C. To the best of my knowledge: (1) Molly Dye is now the Administrative Assistant for Senator Coverdell (200 Russell Senate Office Building - (202) 224-3643); (2) Nick Wise is now the Chief Counsel for Senator DeWine (140 Russell Senate Office Building - (202) 224-2315); and (3) Phil Rehberger is now the Chief of Staff for Senator Kempthorne (367 Dirksen Senate Office Building - (202) 224-6142). I have no knowledge of the whereabouts or employment status of any of the other individuals listed in my interrogatory answers.

I trust that the above information adequately clarifies my prior response.

Sincerely,
